Somewhere Over The Rainbow

by Kathy Exter

Two thousand people anxiously awaited the announcement. Three lovely girls sat atop a dazzling float anticipating the exciting news. In the announcer's booth, high above the field, an envelope containing the long awaited announcement was passed to the man at the speaker. Silence engulfed Handel Stadium on this warm Autumn evening. In a booming voice the memorandum was read, "The 1980 Homecoming Queen is . . . Lisa Granito!"

Kennedy alumni were invited to attend the homecoming football game and dance. Graduates reunited at Handel Stadium while enjoying an exciting football game. On the following evening a gala homecoming dance was staged for the alumni.

Old friends were reunited and an Irish Queen was crowned. An aura of nostalgia engulfed Kennedy High School and the surrounding community during the week of October 17. . . a homecoming filled with the delights as well as the touch of fantasy one can find "Over the Rainbow."

Sometimes You Feel Like A Nut

by Jean Masuo
Joy Lee

Despite homework, term papers, tests, and all the other pressures that go along with high school life, the Irish quest for fun and laughter remained unquenchable. These uncanny Irishmen kept up that unbeatable good humor through even the most difficult times. No matter what the situation, leave it to a nutty Irishman to turn the most boring moment into the craziest. Jokesters clad in everything from Kennedy's football jerseys to Greek togas were eager to flaunt their insanity, while many an Irish "ham" couldn't resist winking at a camera or giving an eager yearbook photographer a crazy cross eyed glare. These high school antics were indeed worth being remembered, and so we present the zanies of Kennedy High School. No matter how solemn you may be at school, there's ALWAYS sometime you feel like a nut!

Jumpin' Into The Eighties

By Joyce Cabotaje

With a splash of punky plaids and prints, the Irish jumped into the eighties. Yesterday's long surfer locks were labeled passé as the cropped topped punkers became more and more visable in the classrooms of Kennedy High School.

More subdued than the radical New Wave styles, was the conservative "preppie" look. Copying the fashions worn by rich college prep school students, many Irish turned to this subtle sophisticated look. High lace collars and plaid pleated skirts were worn by many a pretty young lady, while guys found life more comfortable in Jordache jeans.

Another fad the Irish found themselves saddled into was the Western look, inspired by the film Urban Cowboy. Cowboy hats decorated even the most sophisticated heads, while cowboy boots were a popular shoe choice.

Music took a new direction in this first year of the eighties. These days the Irish turned to New Wave sounds, as Devo topped the charts with the tune "Whip It."

The new sounds and styles gave the Irish a glimpse into the future as well as the past. These fads were the looks of this bright, new, kinky decade into which we have wholeheartedly leaped.

Two's A Couple

by Winston Quitasol
Kim Oh

It starts with a glance, "Did you see that guy who sits next to me in English?" It continues with a word, "Hi, did you do your homework last night?" It finishes with a proposal, "Do you wanna go to the football game Friday night?" This wonderful affliction is high school love. Boy meets girls and so on. Couples circulate the campus holding hands and sharing dreams. Sometimes it works out, and sometimes it doesn't. Whether it's a fleeting crush, or a long term relationship, high school romance is something to remember. The excitement of meeting someone new and the thrill of knowing he likes you, makes the romance all the better. Note passing, gossiping, and jovial giggles were all ingredients in the irrepressible high school couple.

Kickin' Back

by Lyle Wood
Jason Chrest

Lunch, probably the most popular thirty-five minutes of a school day for nearly twenty-four hundred Irish students. It is the time of the day to grab a sandwich, a coke, perhaps a few chocolate chip cookies, find a comfortable bench or a shady tree, and kick back with a few good friends. For some, the lunch break was a few minutes to relax and collect their thoughts, for others, it was merely a time to munch out, while others enjoyed thirty-five minutes of non-stop clowning around. Everyone had their own reason for acting a little zany whether they had just failed an exam, or were celebrating an eighteenth birthday.

Social graces forgotten, lunch sometimes took on a carnival atmosphere. Students let loose in an effort to shake their morning weariness. Best friends shared bits of gossip. Whatever you did at lunch we know you'll agree that this short break in the day let you kick back and enjoy school just a little bit more.

A New Wave of Spirit

by Nancy Kadota
Camie Ujiie

With the start of a new decade, the Fighting Irish made their debut drenched with a new wave of spirit. A vivid array of green and gold uniforms, t-shirts, and jerseys dotted the campus, while other animated Kennedy students flaunted the craziest of buttons, ribbons, hats, and glasses.

Assembly days were anticipated by all. These high spirited pep rallies inspired the "Too Hip" seniors as well as the rowdy underclassmen, to release their Irish spirit. From the moment the band started to play, the atmosphere electrified. Precision routines, deafening class chants and zany skits sparked the crowd's excitement. Motivated students joined in the lively cheering in an effort to root the Fighting Irish onto another victory.

M&M's, frozen strawberry sherbert, Nike boxes filled to the brim with pictures, and a big straw basket all played a big part in the lives of the '81 yearbook staff. While M&M's served as an antidote to deadline blues, Ms. Johnson's strawberry sherbert lasted almost an entire semester and helped to quiet our sometimes boisterous staff. Nike boxes and our colorful straw basket were the substitutes for the drawers and cabinets of last year's yearbook room. Supplies that had before been stored in a conventional classroom were moved into one very cramped straw basket.

Every day during 5th period the twenty-man staff met in room 57, the cooking room. Atop ranges and kitchen counters, we contorted our bodies in an effort to produce the quality book we have issued in the past. While other groups on campus enjoyed the luxury of an organized classroom and large tables, the yearbook staff was forced into a small office next to the cooking room.

Through all this madness the staff remained level headed. Editors Kelli Kaps and Kathy Exter helped to sift the class through these disadvantages. Ms. Johnson, and colleague Mr. Schnek gave everything they had to the yearbook. Ms. Johnson spent many an evening planning and organizing this year's book. The photographers, Ron Diaz and Scott Shanklin seemed to spend all year behind the lenses of their cameras. The combined effort of the entire staff produced this outstanding publication. Considered by many to be one of the most creative and ingenious yearbooks on the market, the Eternal Flame has captured the memories of life at Kennedy High School in a truly unique fashion.

Shamrock: Keeping The Irish Informed

With a renewed enthusiasm and that ever-present Shamrock uniqueness, the Kennedy newspaper staff brought campus news to the Irish students every month. These monthly editions of the Shamrock were sent to the presses after many hours of hard reporting were complete. Contained in the Kennedy newspaper were current event articles, feature articles, and even an entire page devoted to the sports enthusiasts on campus.

Under the direction of their advisor Mr. "C" and the Editor-in-Chief Eric Benson, the newspaper staff worked frantically researching, writing, proofreading, and rewriting articles to meet their deadlines. The result of this deligence was an outstanding news publication.

The Shamrock Staff participated together in many social events. During spirit week Newspaper collided with the mighty Eternal Flame yearbook staff in a clash of muscle over a deep mud pit. The event was the annual tug-o-war, and the Shamrock Staff put forth a good effort. Another event that the Shamrock Staff participated in was the celebration of Yoko Ono's birthday each and every day of the year.

In the Lead for Perfection

Last May in the wee hours of the morning sixteen Irishmen were rudely awakened from their slumber. Attacked by strange masked figures, the Irish were kidnapped from their homes. These sixteen were the 1980-81 Kennedy Student Council. They were kidnapped by the former student council in honor of the new council's election victories.

When the school year started council was well equipped to serve the Irish. During the summer they spent an active week at a leadership camp. With the help of advisor, "Mr. C", the student council served as a main source of communication between students and administration. Council also sponsored and organized dances, proms, Irish week, Spirit week, and pep assemblies.

Every day during 4th period the council united in an effort to organize student activity. Composed of the student leaders from every grade level a variety of ideas streamed into the council room. Always pulling for a better campus, the Irish student council lead their peers in the ongoing pursuite of "school spirit."

Unity Leads to a Victory!

Pretty smiles, bouncy pony tails, and bright green and gold uniforms were the ingredients of this year's enthusiastic Varsity Cheerleading squad. Performing at football, basketball, baseball, and volleyball games, the Kennedy Cheerleaders were dedicated to the promotion of school spirit.

Last March a competitive tryout was held to select the cheerleading squad for the '81 school year. The scores were tabulated and the names were then announced: Head Cheerleader Lisa Granito, Patty Smets, Sally Gauthier, Denise Perez, Sonja Ree, Suzi Shanklin, and Susan Young.

In August the Varsity Cheerleaders traveled to San Diego State University in La Jolla and attended the USA Spirit Camp. Exploding with enthusiasm, they captured the coveted Superior trophy and walked away with forty-two superior ribbons, creativity awards, and the traditional camp spirit stick!

Once school began the Varsity Cheerleaders were more involved than even they had imagined possible. They performed at every school sport, activity, and pep assembly. They kept the mighty Irish football players in high spirits by kidnapping them at 5am, and then preparing a huge surprise breakfast for the monsterous seventy man team. Every week the Cheerleaders decorated the team room with streamers, posters, and lots of delicious goodies.

The Irish Cheerleaders brought the classic version of a cheerleader to life on the Kennedy campus. If every little girl's dream is to be a cheerleader, then Kennedy Varsity Cheerleaders must have encouraged a lot of little girls. These seven young ladies began as individuals, but in the end they were a very close unit working for one common goal — SPIRIT!

With a crash of cymbals and a roar of drums, the John F. Kennedy Fighting Irish Band stepped off into their 1980-81 season. In rigid, military style the band marched to the lively Sousa march "Fairest of the Fair". Featured this year was the always impressive percussion unit of the band. Clad in sharp, new, dazzling uniforms the drummers supplied the uniting link to the band.

The marching band underwent much renovation this year. Under the instruction of new band director Doug Hargis, many prestigeous awards were sought for and won by the Irish band. The band's winning season was highlighted by a first place award at the Lester Oaks Band Review. As if that wasn't enough, the band also captured the coveted music award. For the first time in many years the band was on the victory road.

Drum major Jeff Lyons headed the Irish band with the assistance of the officers: President Jason Chrest, Secretary Linda Evans, and Treasurer Dave Frias. These leaders guided the band's determination and perserverance.

The marching band participated in weekend parades and field show tournaments as well as entertaining at football games and assemblies. Endless hours of practice were necessary to put together these successful shows. The band's dazzling performances entertained scores of delighted, Irish crowds. Add to this the band's zany spirit and you'll find an indispensable source of Irish spirit and enthusiasm.

Color Guard Shines with Pride and Spirit

It all started in August while many Irish students were still enjoying lazy summer days. Twenty-five talented girls were busily preparing for the Fall marching season. Twirling brightly colored flags and spinning dazzling rifles these girls worked diligently perfecting military routines. They were the twenty-five members of the Fighting Irish Color Guard.

Clad in sharp new uniforms with clever cavalier hats the color guard spent many long hours polishing their routines. The color guard instructor, Chris Escavedo, worked with the student leaders Molly Alvarez, Nan Patterson, Lori Stevens, and Lesli Ward, in an effort to continue the color guard's successful winning streak.

At one time the color guard was considered to be just an accessory to the band, but this year the girls really came into their own. Exhibiting their independence, the color guard captured many prestigeous awards. Known throughout the state as a championship team, the color guard was a constant source of pride for Kennedy High School.

Goin' in Style

Put forty exuberant, high spirited young ladies on a big yellow school bus with a frazzled advisor, a weary bus advisor, and a couple of conservative chaparones and what do you get? The Kennedy Colleen Drill Team, of course! Guided by their advisor, Cam Peterson, and aided by an always helpful Booster Club, the Colleens marched and danced their way to success.

Lead by vivacious head leader Debi Sharp, the Colleens captured many prestigeous awards. In an exciting presentation the Drill Team received a first place trophy at the Whittier parade. In February the girls competed in the Miss Drill Team USA Pageant. As a finale to a year filled with activity the Colleens presented a special Spring Show filled with dance, novelty, and military routines.

Guiding the Colleens through both tribulations and victories were the five student leaders. Seen throughout the year chirping whistles and yelling commands, the Drill Team leaders were: Head Debi Sharp, 1st Assistant Laura Devitt, 2nd Assistant Young Chun, and Recalls Kathy Exter and Jeanette Williams. To guide and organize social events the team elected three officers: President Cindy Sigler, Secretary/Treasurer Michelle Totten, and Historian Michelle O'Brien.

When at last June drew the school year to a close, each Colleen found herself in possession of a pocket full of happy memories, and a team of forty friends.

These Girls Got Rhythm

Atop brightly lacquered stools, waving flouncy pom pons, you can find an enthusiastic Kennedy Songleader. She is the one with the sparkling smile, springy jumps, and sky-high kicks. You may have seen one of these bubbly pepsters performing at athletic events and pep assemblies. With the heavy responsibility of "school spirit" upon their shoulders, the Irish song squad sold bright green and gold ribbons, hung spirit posters, and decorated the team room.

What does it take to be a songleader? Last year, six girls were chosen for the '81 song squad. They were judged according to their ability to jump, kick, their sense of rhythm, and their creativity in constructing routines. The six girls chosen to be members of the 1981 squad were: Kim Anderson (Head Songleader), Michele Johnson, Christy Jordan, Theresa Patrick, Karal Skidmore, and Tracy Skidmore.

During assemblies, the songleaders expressed their Irish spirit with polished, energetic routines to popular tunes such as, "Betty Lou," "Girls Got Rhythm," and "What I Like About You."

This dedicated group of girls spent most of their free time fulfilling their songleading responsibilities. They entertained and served as a source of inspiration to all.

Cheers And Chants From Freshman Cheer And Mascots

Perhaps the most eager group on campus, the freshmen cheerleaders, were quick to spark up Irish enthusiasm. These six girls started with little, if any, cheerleading experience, but soon practiced their way to the top. Summer days were spent polishing precision cheers and balancing their efforts in impressive stunts.

The Freshmen Cheerleaders were:
Denise Granito, Jane Earley, Susan Ives, Sherrie Prejean, Dorothy Elamparo, Angela Huang. Performing at freshmen sports and Irish pep assemblies these cheerleaders added spirit and enthusiasm to the Kennedy Campus.

Bubbling with excitement, the Kennedy Mascots encouraged enthusiasm by adding a touch of humor to school events. Garbed in traditional dress, mascots Mike Hayward and Shannon Gudmundson invoked Irish spirit. Always in good humor, smiling Mike Hayward alighted many with his animated cheers and spirited chants. Talented Shannon Gudmundson entertained at the Irish pep assembly with a lively Irish jig. Together these high spirited individuals combined to create an animated team that inspired and entertained Kennedy's student body.

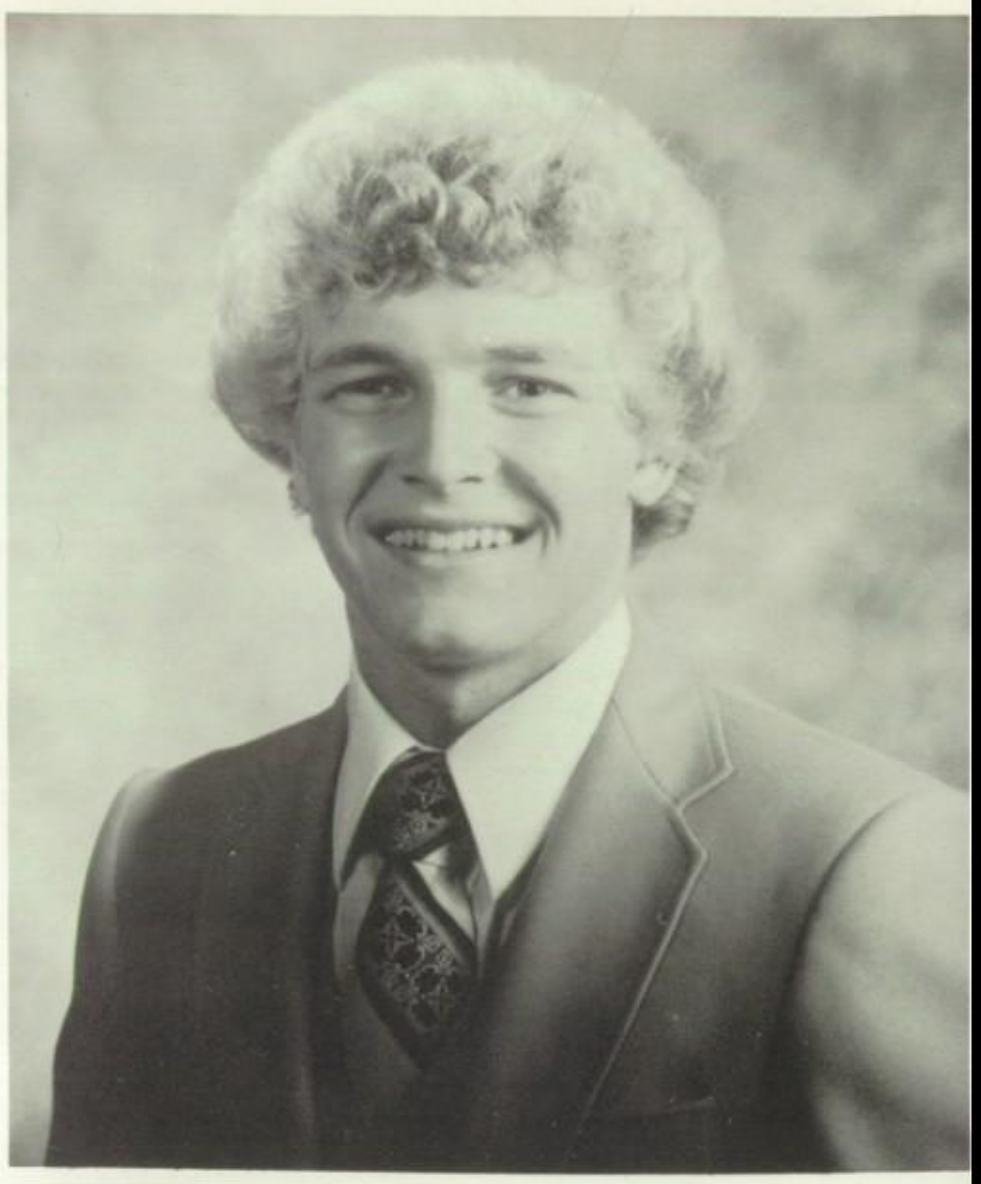
Kevin Coventon



As we all do, I have made many friends and lasting memories during my three year span at Kennedy. But more importantly, I have used Kennedy as a practical training ground for my years ahead. Upon reaching high school as a fourteen year old sophomore, popularity and acceptance by others seemed to dominate all of my actions. As I matured, I put these trivial things behind me and started becoming the true person I wanted to be.

I have always tried to keep up with Kim, my sister, throughout school, and so naturally I've been very involved. I have been fortunate enough to be on Student Council all three years, finishing out my senior year as A.S.B. President. I have attained four varsity letters in waterpolo, basketball and two letters in baseball. Among all this activity, I have maintained a 3.9 grade point average. Outside of school I play winter baseball with the New York Mets, weightlift, and love to go snow skiing.

Though people give me all the credit for accomplishments made here at Kennedy, I turn right around and accredit Jesus Christ and my Christian faith for every last one of them. Without Him and knowing that "He will never leave me nor forsake me" (HEBREWS 13:5), I would have been a very lost and frustrated individual. I thank all of you who spent your time and years with me here at John F. Kennedy.

Ron Barker

Kennedy High School. I remember looking across the street from Walker and dreaming about what it was going to be like in high school. In my three years at Kennedy, I've discovered that the school is not unique, it is the people that make it the best!

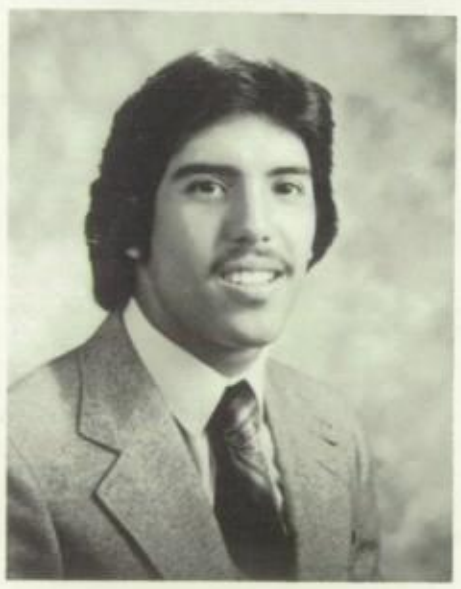
I have gained valuable leadership experience by serving as Sophomore President and A.S.B. Treasurer in 1981. While at Kennedy, I have participated in both Sophomore Track and Sophomore Basketball. As a junior, I was elected co-captain of the J. V. Basketball team, and I have continued to play basketball as a senior on the varsity team. I have maintained no less than a 3.7 G.P.A. As for future plans at this point, I hope to attend B.Y.U.

I would like to thank the faculty and especially my parents for their help and support. But most of all I want to thank you, my friends, who have made my years here memorable and enjoyable.

Mike DeBell

The enjoyable times I've spent at Kennedy will stay with me for the rest of my life. I am thankful for having had the opportunity to be involved in school activities. I have played football throughout my three years at Kennedy, and was also elected as I. O. C. President my senior year.

My teachers, coaches, friends, and especially my parents have given me great support and I would like to thank you all. I hope that everyone has had and will be given as much opportunity in their years at Kennedy as I have had.



Martin Lombrano

As I look back on my three years at Kennedy, I realized how fast the years have actually gone. I've always wanted to be involved in school and did this mainly through participating in football. I was a starter all three years and lettered the last two years. I'm most proud to have been named to the coaches all-league first team as a tight end. Just this last year I was elected Senior Class Vice-President, something I had always wanted.

I have made many great friends at Kennedy who have made me realize how very important they are in a persons life. I'll always hold the memories of high school closest to me. I thank the people who have supported me through it all; my parents, friends, and coaches.

Gary Ruhlen

My three years at Kennedy High School have been very enlighting ones. Perhaps the most rewarding thing to me was having met so many fine people and becoming closer to them. Many teachers helped me to maintain a 3.5 G.P.A. My studies have helped me a great deal so that I can continue my education in college.

In my first year of running for an office, I was honored by being elected A.S.B. Vice-President. In my position on the council, I was introduced to new concepts and ideas.

I was glad to be a part of an 8-4 varsity football team that made the spirit blossom here at Kennedy. Lettering two years in the sport, my senior year proved to be my most productive. I was named to the coaches second team all-league as quarterback. I also played Sophomore Football and basketball and lettered two years in Varsity Basketball.

I would like to thank my friends, family, coaches, and counselors for being great people and helping me have fun and be successful in a major part of my life.

MISS IRISH

Sara Cooper

I began here at Kennedy as a typical struggling sophomore. I wanted to be involved in school, that I knew! My first position in Student Council was Junior CASC Representative. Besides my difficult jobs in council, I was appointed to be Homecoming Chairman for both my junior and senior years. I also played on the J.V. Softball Team and was chosen to represent Kennedy High School at the California Girls State Convention in Sacramento. My most valuable experience of all has been serving as Senior Class President this year. Throughout my three years at Kennedy, I have maintained a 3.6 grade point average.

The people that I have met, and the friendships that I have experienced will always leave me with the happiest memories of my high school years at Kennedy. Thanks to all my pals for making this a special year, I'll never forget you!

Kathy Exter

Whew! I can't believe my senior year is almost over! A glutton for punishment, I took on two demanding responsibilities this year: Yearbook Editor and Drill Team Leader. Between meeting hectic deadlines and creating crazy dance routines, my days (not to mention mornings, evenings, and nights) spent at Kennedy High School were indeed "action packed". A 100% membership in C.S.F. was also squeezed into my hectic schedule, as was the brain-racking, nerve-wrecking studying that goes into a 3.9 grade point average. In my junior year I received a gold service point award and am working towards an Emerald Award this year. In December I found myself among the few from Kennedy to appear in Who's Who Among American High School Students. I also traveled with the Drill Team to Ireland last St. Patrick's Day. I'd like to thank all the warm, loving, wonderful friends, faculty, and advisors who held me together when breakdowns were eminent. The time I've given up, the hours I've spent in anguish, and the pressure I've endured are all worth the terrific, unforgettable memories I've collected here at Kennedy High School.

Lisa Granito

Thinking back on the years that I have spent here at Kennedy High, I felt that some of my fondest memories have come from these past three years. I have met many new friends and most of all, I have learned to work well with others.

During my sophomore year, I was active on the Sophomore Cheer squad. As a junior I spent my year as a member of the Varsity Cheer squad.

Going into my senior year, I knew I wanted to make this my very best year ever. So I set out to reach all of my goals. Again I was on the Varsity Cheer squad as Head Cheerleader, and I was fortunate enough to be involved in Student Council as representative to all of the cheerleaders. As a senior I was also kept very active by being a member of the Performing Dance class. Haven been chosen Homecoming Queen was one of the greatest honors I received here at Kennedy.

I feel that my high school years have been all that I wanted them to be and I thank all of my friends and family who helped make it possible.

Sherri Lyon

My years at Kennedy were at times trying, but they were also fun and exciting.

I was involved as much as possible so I would not graduate from Kennedy feeling I had not contributed in trying to make it a better school.

As a sophomore I learned a great deal about basketball and baseball by keeping statistics for the sophomore teams. During my junior year I had fun on the J.V. Cheer squad.

As a senior I learned more about the inner-workings of our school by participating in Student Council serving as Publicity Commissioner. Along with the office of Publicity Commissioner, came my first experiences at publishing the Council Quorum, a newsletter to the students from the Student Council.

I am thankful for all the opportunities given to me throughout my years at John F. Kennedy.

Many thanks to my family and friends who helped me make it through the past three years. I love you all!

Patty Smets

As a sophomore, a fledgling, the future was full of new hopes and bright expectations. My first day at Kennedy began with a stomach full of butterflies. When it finally came to an end, I was determined to become an active part of my new school.

One of the goals I wanted to achieve was to become a member of the Student Council. In my junior year, I was granted the chance to serve as Activities Commissioner. Through this experience my eyes were opened to the many decisions made by the leadership class. I also was chosen as first runner-up to Girls-State and was awarded the silver award for service to my school. My involvement in school activities has not, surprisingly, hindered my academic standings. I have maintained a 3.38 grade point average throughout my three years while taking college preparation courses.

This September I plan on studying Studio Art at the University of California, Irvine, eventually entering the field of architecture.

A special thanks to all who made my stay at Kennedy too hip . . . gotta go!

DREAMS BECOME REALITY

"Seniors! Seniors! We're the Seniors and couldn't be prouder and if you can't hear us . . . " We all know these words, but the class of '81 lived them. 1981 became a year in which dreams were created for the future in the hopes of becoming reality. In September, graduation still seemed a world away to most Seniors, but as June loomed on the Seniors horizon, words like college applications, S.A.T's, Senior pictures, and graduation announcements started to creep into the conversations of many mild-mannered graduates to be. These students were seen committing strange acts of pre-graduate wackiness which were especially noticeable at assemblies and other Senior gatherings. Bizarre phrases floated through the halls of our beloved J.F.K. such as; "Too Hip" or "What a Trip". These sayings echoed the thoughts of this years graduating class. Many Seniors complained of impatience and nervousness, definite signs of "Senioritis" — a disease which often afflicts graduating students.

Following in tradition, the Seniors participated in many exciting social activities. Senior skate nights were sure-fire ways to gain a new aquaintance . . . and a sore behind! In addition to skate nights, Sara Cooper the 1981 Senior class president, cooked up car washes, a teeter-totter-a-thon, and a fabulous Senior assembly that out shined all others. Sara had the help of the Senior officers: Martin Lombrano, vice pres.; Michelle Totten, sec.; and Hye Seo Jung, treas. For many, the Senior year was highlighted by a trip to Hawaii. Anxious to be off into the world, the Seniors waved good-bye to John F. Kennedy High School with the proud declaration, "Too Hip, Gotta Go"!!!!!

The Building of an Empire

Many new achievements were attained this year that will set this team apart from the many teams that preceded them. To achieve the honor of winning the 100th win in the school's history and to defeat the Loara Saxons for the first time were two milestones in our football program.

The season opener against Western High School was a successful start for the Fighting Irish. With a good balance of offense, defense, and some fine punt returns, we defeated the Pioneers 34-7.

El Modena, the Century League Champions, defeated the Irish in our second game 27-0. After our big loss to El Modena, the team rebounded and beat Orange High School, 22-8 for its second win of the year.

Our next opponent, Mountain View from El Monte, kept us off balanced with their fine passing attack but we responded with a good team effort and won 12-6. The final pre-season game with Corona Del Mar was a very close, hard fought game. By winning 7-0, the Irish had completed their pre-league record with four wins and one loss.

Los Alamitos, our homecoming opponent, lived up to all their pre-season predictions as the favorite to win the league by soundly beating us by a score of 24-7. Although we played better football in our second league game, we were defeated by the Katella Knights, 35-28, in a very exciting, big play game.

At this low point in the season, the Fighting Irish showed their character and courage by coming back to beat a fast, explosive Oceanview team 20-13. This was the school's 100th victory.

Our next game with cross town rival, Cypress, was a big win in many respects. By beating them 20-14, we kept our chances alive for a C.I.F. play-off berth and we won the 100th game in my coaching career. The ceremony following the game will always be a very memorable occasion.

Our final league game against the Empire League Champions, Loara Saxons was one of the finest games in our long history. We not only beat them for the first time, 18-6, but with this exciting win we were able to enter the play-offs for the first time since 1975. The coaches swim in the cold pool after the game was worth it.

The enthusiasm and spirit of the team, the school, and the parents, continued into the play-offs. In our first game, we faced the El Rancho Dons, who were the second place team from the San Gabriel League. In an outstanding effort by our team we won 16-6.

In our final game of the year, we faced the best passing team in the county. Sunny Hills had to play their best game of the year to beat the Fighting Irish in the last few minutes, 28-21. The Irish played with the kind of intense spirit and desire that has been the trademark of Kennedy football teams.

To say that we were all proud of this team's efforts would be an understatement. Their great teamwork and dedication was evident as they finished the season with an 8-4 record. Best of luck to all the seniors. Your leadership was responsible for such an outstanding season.

Sophs will need improvement for 1981 season

The 1980 football season was somewhat disheartening for the players and coaches of the J.F.K. Sophomore football team. The team finished with 1 win and 4 losses in Empire League play, which placed them in 5th place at the end of the season. Including pre-league play, the sophs finished with a 1-9 record.

This team, under the direction of coaches Castles and Pollard, was not without individuals who shined above the rest. The Soph team captains were: Offense: John Tullius, and Defense: Mike Moore. The perserverence of Brent Dunkin earned him the Most Valuable Player award.

Though victory was not to be had by the Sophs this year, their effort and diligence represented the best of Kennedy High.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL

A Perfect Season

Incredible! That's the only way I can find to describe John F. Kennedy's Freshmen Football team. This team had it all, a good offense and defense. They played in a fashion that dazzled and confused opponents, and also excited football enthusiasts.

With an unblemished record at the end of the year (consisting of ten consecutive wins, including a 54-0 shutout) our Freshmen Football team was named the champion of the Empire League. The Freshmen team's offense and defense were so proefficient that no team ever closed to within fifteen points in any game during the course of the season. Coaches Flores and Montalbano must have been very proud of their team, to say the least. This was a team comprised of individuals who will undoubtedly be tough to reckon with as a Sophomore team in 1981.

Spiking to Success

Coming off a second place CIF finish, the Girls' Varsity Volleyball team had a tough act to follow. With only three returning varsity players, the team's experience level was not quite enough to carry them through the CIF playoffs.

However, the talent of the new spikers was not to be underestimated. The team made it to the second round of this year's CIF tournament, finishing with an overall record of 20 wins and 6 losses. The volleyball team finished second in the Empire League with a record of 8 wins and 2 losses.

Teamwork was stressed by Coach Simmons and student captains Cheryl Doerr and Diana Hendel. The outstanding individuals on the team were Most Valuable Player Joan McGhee, and the Most Improved Player Tracy Stuht.

Hard work and competitive enthusiasm made the Girls' Varsity Volleyball team winners in every aspect of the word.

Success for Underclassmen

Lead by first year coach Scott Burns, the Junior Varsity Girls' Volleyball team began the year with a preseason record of five wins and three losses. During competition in the Empire League, the spikers slumped to a 5-5 record and a fourth place league finish. The disappointing finish did not diminish the girls' spirit.

The outstanding players of the season were Annette Ugliano, Most Valuable Player; Carol McGhee, Most Improved Player; and Cheri Wilson, Most Inspirational Player.

For the first time in Kennedy's history, a Freshman Volleyball Team was fielded. This squad was led by Coach Jean Rabune and Captain Shawn Stuht.

The girls tied for second place in the Empire League with a record of five wins and three losses. Cheri Sucker was voted the Most Inspirational Player on the team. The Co-Most Valuable Players were Cheri Sucker and Marina Van Malle, while Amanda Ousley was named the Most Improved Player.

Cagers Show Marked Improvement

The Irish Varsity Basketball season began with the team losing four of their first five games, but this was largely due to the fact that three of their players were missing due to the extended football season.

This team was full of players from the 1979-80 Junior Varsity team which finished second in league play. Although the Irish were in the tough Empire League, Coach John Mayberry was very optimistic and expected good things out of his team.

When the team was finally unified, the Irish netters responded by winning more frequently. Saddleback was conquered with a 103 — 63 win in the Consolation Championship at the Santiago Tournament. The Irish also made it to the Consolation round at Valencia, only to fall to Muir. The highlight of the pre-season was a three day trip to Lompoc, to play in the Cabrillo Classic.

Shoot to Thrill

Coached by Barry Rabune, the Junior Varsity Basketball Team entered the year with great expectations. The team spent many hours during the summer and after school in an effort to perfect their skills.

Coach Rabune preached hustle to his players and they responded by giving 100% effort in their games. Unfortunately, the Irish were in the same league as the power houses Oceanview and Katella, so a high position in the standings was doubtful. The juniors had faced a difficult preseason workout, but looked forward to a successful season.

Gain Valuable Experience

The transition from junior high to high school basketball is a difficult one indeed. However, the 1981 sophomore cagers met success head on. This young and talented team displayed true Irish vigor and vitality. Led by notable sophomores Joe Panganiban, Charlie Whitmarsh, Craig Thurman, Jeff Mundt, and Jeff Thibodeau, the 10th grade basketball team played with extreme intensity and determination. First year coach Dickie Duron expects the Sophomore team to carry their talents into next year's campaign as juniors.

The first freshmen basketball team to ever don the proud green and gold colors of Kennedy participated this year in Empire League play. The '84 team's initial season was both exciting and exhilirating as this young team showed complete dedication to the game of basketball. Coached by Steve Buckley, the team was sparked by outstanding players Jeff Williams, Scott Buss, Dennis Montera, John Gasparovic, and Eric Von Schimmelman. Another excellent performance is expected next year, when this freshmen squad will return as accomplished sophomores.

The Irish Substituted Performance For Endurance

Plagued by a disappointing pre-season, the 1980-81 Girls' Varsity Basketball Team anticipated improvement in the league games. First year coach, Nick Dizdar, inspired and helped the team gain confidence. He also improved their shooting skill and game strategy. In December, the team traveled to the Cypress Tournament. Facing tough competition, the Fighting Irish were only able to reach the second round. The girls fought hard to compete in a difficult, competitive league. The basketball team was strengthened by six returning players, three of whom, captained the team: Diana Hendel, Rene Cross and Joan McGhee. Basketball Was Hot and Cold

HOT! That's the way the Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball Team started their season. With winning steam, they exited their preseason with a record of 4 wins and 1 loss. Cooling off a bit, their league games ended with an accumulative record of 5 wins and 5 losses. The girls were very strong, specializing in inside shots, some outside shots and offense and defense rebounding. Captain Randee Rabune lead the girls with spirit and enthusiasm. Coaching the team for the first time was Coach Jim Wing. Dedicated and determined, he helped them to reach Irish victories everywhere they went.

The Freshman Girls' Basketball Team fought their way through a stormy season. Coached by Pam Simmons, the team soon overcame their early season stiffness and soon offered themselves as serious competitors in their league. The girls' talent increased and the suspense of head to head competition thrilled their audiences. Marina VanMelle kept the Irish spirit high through a difficult season.

They Got Guts!

With only two returning varsity lettermen, this year's Varsity Tennis season suggested a grim outlook. However, despite their lack of experience, the team displayed great determination. Under the incomparable management of Coach Larry Buie, they spent endless hours drilling their serves, volleys, and groundstrokes to improve their game. This dedication, along with the talent of junior Wayne Dennen and senior Clem Mangosong, won the 1981 Varsity Tennis team a respectable season record as well as a renewed sense of team spirit and unity.

With an abundance of talent, enthusiasm and pride, this year's J.V. Tennis team netted great results. This spirited group of young underclassmen got off to a tremendous start, tasting victory in their first two matches against Savanna and Fullerton. High Hopes

That's what the Girls' Tennis Team had when the season first got underway. They won six straight matches before falling to Wilson High School of Long Beach.

Highly favored to win their league championship, the Irish netters got off to a slow start losing their league-opening match to Katella. They rebounded, however, winning their next three matches and finishing the season with five wins and five losses in league, and with a final record of eleven wins and six losses. As this outstanding record shows, all the girls on this year's team were excellent. A few girls really stood out though, upsetting their opponents game after game. These outstanding players were: Debbie Lush, Mickey Hooper, Denise Garcia, and Connie Seu.

As for the Junior Varsity team, their hard work and dedication did not pay off as well as they had hoped. After a rough season, they finished the season with four wins, five losses, and a tie.

Coached by Larry Buie, the tennis team perfected moves that carried them through a competitive but triumphant season.

Given a uniform and an opponent, our Junior Varsity wrestlers supplied their own reserve of endless courage and strength. Every match proved to be a new learning experience for the Kennedy Irish. The junior varsity team did not achieve success on their own, though. With the coaching of Tom Gonzales, who wrestled at Kennedy in 1976-77 and Richard Jaworski, who wrestled for the Irish in 1979, the J.V. and new frosh-soph team were taught the fundamentals of wrestling.

With the addition of the freshmen class the wrestling department added a frosh-soph team to their adept program for their upcoming years at Kennedy High. Although some schools did not have a frosh-soph team, these young fighting Irish were still able to leave many a scar of defeat on the teams they faced.

Plunging into a 50 degree pool at six o'clock in the morning may not be your idea of something to wake up to, but a few of our faithful Irishmen took that frigid plunge and became members of the few and the proud, the swim team.

Lime-green hair was not the only trait that distinguished these dedicated young men from the average student. A few of our proud Irish swimmers were also given honors for their achievements. Jeff Antimarino, a C.I.F. contender, was just one of the Kennedy swimmers to receive recognition.

Competing in the strong Empire League once again presented a challenge to the team. They participated in many events: diving, breastroke, backstroke, the butterfly, and the crawl. Throughout their season, Coach Zehtner and the team worked together to promote enthusiasm and create a strong sense of unity in the team.

Kennedy High School's Girls' Swim Team entered the 1981 season with highflying spirit and great enthusiasm. Two impressive wins initiated this exciting season and at the time of this publication no further competitions had been staged. However, victories were anticipated by the entire team.

Returning swimmers Sarah Aguire, Susan Hurley and Lynnette Guiterrez paced the Irish squad while valuable contributions were made by sophomores Sharlene Gee, Sherri Teramoto and Andrea Bennett.

Led by Coach Bob Zehntner, these girls competed against various high schools in Southern California emerging victorious after long weeks of preparation and practice.

VARSITY
WATER POLO

Wades Through a Rough Season

Throughout the 1980 season, Kennedy's Varsity Water Poloists displayed the courage and determination that honors "Fighting Irish" tradition. Although a 1 win, 4 loss record and a fourth place finish was yielded in league competition, the water polo team gave a 100% effort in concentration, dedication, and all-around good sportsmanship. An impressive win against Katella highlighted the season but close and hard-fought losses to Ocean View, Cypress, Loara, and Los Alamitos put a damper to any Irish hopes of making the CIF playoffs.

The Irishmen were paced by returning lettermen Dan Blow and Steve Craig, Jeff Antimarino, Allan Pellin, and Pat Norton. The team was coached by Jerry Beehaire who implanted the winning spirit in the team players.

A more successful season is anticipated next year with 5 returning lettermen expected to participate in 1981.

Has a "Fresh' Look

For the first time in Kennedy sports history a freshmen water polo team suited up and performed in league competition. Although inexperienced, the freshmen poloists exhibited the poise and ability needed to emerge victorious.

Led by captain "Piper" Antimarino the '84 team posted an impressive 4 win, 1 loss record and a second place league finish. Exciting victories over Katella, Ocean View, Cypress, and Loara highlighted this initial season. A disappointing loss to Los Alamitos was the only setback the team suffered.

Coach Bob Zehntner, excited over the outstanding freshmen season, was confident that the freshman would continue this year's impressive showing in next season's crusade. With the valuable experience the poloists gained, the freshmen team should prove invincible as sophomores.

VARSITY SOCCER

Kick for Higher Goals

Following the fantastic season of the 1980 Soccer Champs, this year's varsity soccer team was under great pressure to do well. Containing only three returning letterman, this young and inexperienced team was headed by coaches Aronsohn and Zaven. Their season began on a note of victory as they defeated Fountain Valley in a pre-season game. They then entered the Huntington Beach Tournament and lost to Fountain Valley by one goal in the first round. After a long, hard struggle the soccer players lost two well played games to Bell Gardens and Oceanview. Finally rebounding back, they outplayed John Glenn by beating them 5-2. Finishing their pre-season play, the team fell to Huntington Beach in a tough battle resulting in a 6-0 loss for the Irish.

At the time of publication, their league play had not started, but they were looking forward to a winning season. They had gained the experience and skills needed to take on the tough league competition.

Head on to Victory

Coached by Zaven Armachiad and Ron McQuire, the Junior Varsity Soccer Team reached a well earned victory against Dana Point. They won 2-1 in their first pre-season game. In their next game against Katella, their spirits were dampened when they lost a close and tough battle, 3-2. Even with this loss, they were expecting to do well in the rest of their league play.

This was the first year that Kennedy hosted a Freshman-Sophomore Team. These young and talented players were guided by Coach Ron McQuire. They began their season by out-hustling a skilled Katella team, 6-0. They then battled through a hard fought game against Los Alamitos which ended in a tie, 0-0. At the time this publication went to press, both of these determined teams had just begun their successful season in Empire League play.

TRACK

Overcomes Hurdles

Varsity Track opened with a stall; their first meet was called on account of rain. Spirit none-the-less unthwarted, the Irish remained eager to begin their competitive season. Effort and hard work became the main characteristics of the forty-six boys of the varsity team. Both varsity and frosh-soph teams were led by returning captains Curt Mackay and Robert Oskorus, and returning letterman Dwayne Ota. The coaching staff consisted of enthusiastic instructors Richard Bailey, David Kurth, Jackie Johnson, and Rick Neiswonger. At the time of printing the Varsity Track Team was yet to face a league opponent. However, both captains and coaches predicted victory for this team of versatile, competitive young men.

CROSS COUNTRY

Keeping Up with the Pack

This year's cross country team initially got off on the wrong foot. It was not until mid-September when Coach Bailey took over the Irish harriers that the team began to show any promise. Coach Bailey took the cross country team to the Santa Ana River Bed, Seal Beach, and El Dorado Park in an effort to give the team the much needed experience on running three tough terrains.

The cross country team was composed of the boy's team, captained by Brian Porter, and the girl's team was under the leadership of Captain Evelyn Robinson. Although the team did not do well as a whole, there were some individuals who are worth noting. Most Improved were Myron Alsman and Evelyn Robinson, and Most Valuable Runners were Brian Porter and Suzanne Smith.

Although the cross country team's success was thwarted with late starts and just plain bad luck the runner's individual efforts were ranked number one.

Varsity Players Slide to Success

The 1981 Kennedy High School Varsity Baseball Team included four returning lettermen: W. Addison, K. Coventon, S. Shuff, and M. Stocks. Coach Floyd Chandler emphasized speed, pitching and defense.

The season had just begun when this yearbook went to press, but Coach Chandler, in his first year at Kennedy, expected hard work and many victories from his players. Kennedy competed in the competitive Empire League, but the Irish, led by team captain Mike Barton, promised to be tough contenders for the League Championship.

The Junior Varsity Baseball squad of 1981 displayed enthusiasm, hustle, and the drive to win. Coach Scott Burns who came to Kennedy from Orangeview Junior High School, instilled in his team the qualities necessary for winning.

Another new member of the Irish coaching staff, Jim Allyson, led the Frosh/Soph Baseball Team thru a very promising season. This team will be the strong foundation of the Irish baseball program for the next three years.

SOFTBALL

Delivers Dynamic Talent

When it came to skills in softball, Kennedy's girl's softball teams had all the bases covered. Under the dedicated instruction of varsity coach Marcia Iverson and junior-varsity coach Tom Farr, the two teams slid through to winning seasons. Practicing to achieve their high goals, the year's softball teams perfected all aspects of the game, but most importantly, they worked together as a team towards victory. Captains Cheryl Doerr and Tena Byers led the teams to decisive wins in their first games of the season against St. Joseph. Varsity's 4-3 win, and junior-varsity's 6-0 victory was significant in that St. Joseph was the defending CIF champ. When asked what the strong points of her team were, coach Iverson claimed that they were a good team with strong, excellent players in every position. "Kennedy has five returning lettermen and has an excellent chance of doing well in league again this year and continuing to play in CIF for the fifth consecutive year." At the time of publication, they had played only their first game, but their victory was a sign of the successful season to come.

Badminton and Golf

Irish Pursue Team Excellence

Badminton is a sport of skill and endurance. It is patterned much like tennis with a touch of racquetball technique. Kennedy's badminton team boasted its largest turnout ever this season. Led by girls' coach Pam Simmons and boys' coach Bob Switzer both talented teams combined to form one sensational co-ed team.

The badminton team's toughest competition this season were Cypress and Loara. However, at the time of printing, the badminton team anticipated a strong finish in league play.

This year there was another large turnout for the Kennedy Golf team. With the return of Gilbert Guillen, Chris Tatka, Steve Galipeau, Drew Kretschmer, Chris Stanicek, John Whitman, and senior letterman Brian Kitajima, the team had a head start on victory. With the addition of Lorin Augustine and juniors Mark Woodward and Henry Prejean, the golf team was a well-rounded group of highly skilled individuals.

A Touch Of Class

Kennedy's 1981 Winter Formal was held on January 17 with just a "Touch of Class." On this enchanting occasion, couples dressed in exquisite gowns and handsome tuxedos, toured the elaborate Movieland Wax Museum. After the tour, they gathered under the stars at the museum's outdoor California Plaza to dance to the music of Evergreen. Following tradition, the Most Preferred Men were announced. The winners were: seniors Mickey McBride, Rick Rabune, and Gary Ruhlen, junior Jeff Antimarino, sophomore Mike Deep, and freshman Ron Rabune.

Halloween Brings Out Irish Insanity

Halloween fell on a Friday this year creating havoc at Kennedy High School on October 31. Students were encouraged to garb themselves in a fashion befitting Halloween. As usual, outlandish costumes were donned by the imaginative Irish.

After a day of Halloween madness the Irish went about their individual ways to celebrate the spirited holiday. Couples traveled to Knott's "Scary" Farm, tours were taken of haunted houses, and a few collected candy in a "trick or treating" spree.

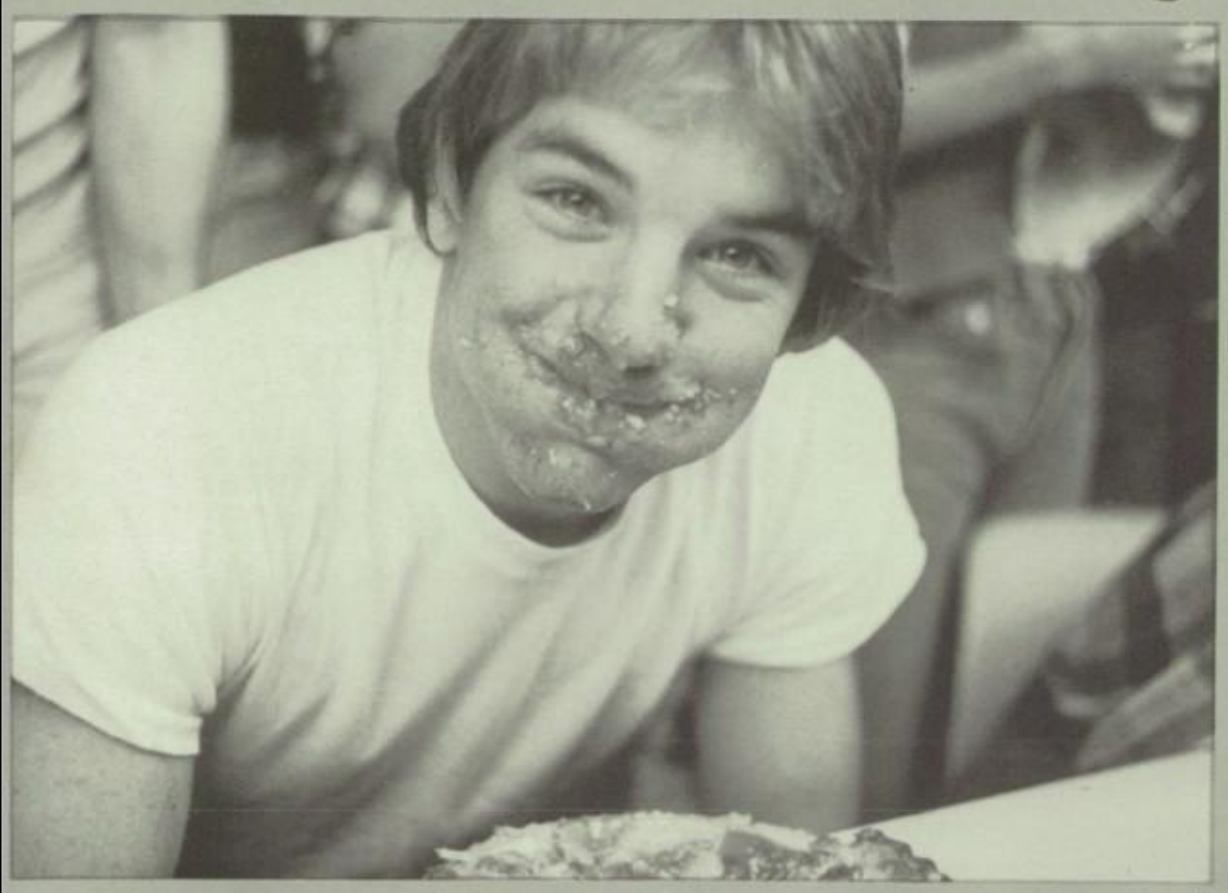
Spirit Week Goes off with a Bang!



As usual, Spirit Week '81 brought out the zaniness in everyone. This year it started with Hat, Buttons and Glasses Day, during which spirited students donned beanies, over-sized specs and literally "buttoned up" all over. Noontime activities for this day included the Balloon Hug Race and Ice Cream Eating Contest.

The following day was Western Day. Urban cowstudents clad in leather vests, cowboys hats, boots and jingling spurs moseyed on through such competitions as the Amoeba Race and the Apple Pie Eating Contest to prove that our spirit really is the best in the west.

With a splash of purple and a dab of plaid, Punk Day began with a "Clash." It was the last day of Spirit Week, and "Devo"-ted Irish as well as "Pretenders" were seen clothed in a new wave of attire, consisting of bright mini skirts, dotted bermudas, Devo glasses and other punk paraphernalia. Hairstyles for this day were equally wild; hair cropped at the crown and silver ducktails were sported by many outlandish Irish.

To add to the manic air, outrageous activities were staged. The wild assembly, Potato Sack Race, and Hamburger Stuff were all successful in making Punk Day and Spirit Week a memorable time for the Irish.

Irish Spirit Assembles

"Good morning Irish! We're on assembly bell schedule!" As soon as the announcement was made the atmosphere on the Kennedy campus became electrified. It was an assembly day!

This year's pep assemblies were indeed something to behold. The assemblies hosted some rather special guest performers. In a gesture of Good Luck the Los Alamitos High School cheerleaders performed stunts and cheers. But the true highlight of the assemblies was the faculty. Under the leadership of the always outrageous Mr. Montalbano, the faculty dramatized skits to encourage Irish Spirit.

Falling frantically on the hard skate floor, hundreds of Kennedy Seniors rolled in ready for action! Seniors were found whizzing around the floor, coupling off, making trains, or just speed skating. Some shakey, knock-kneed Irish gripped the rail as they cautiously made their way around the rink. Gun-ho and ready to go skaters could be seen staging elaborate falls and dives. Whether it was backwards, forwards, or sideways, they all seemed to manage to stay on their skates until the session drew to an end. — And Oh what an ending!! With swollen ankles and bruished derriers, some seniors still managed to stay for another session.

After the blisters started to appear and they were extremely bushed from their romp at the skating rink, the Irish Seniors took off for the Ol' traditional Straw Hat Pizza Place. Resting, and munching out on some pepperoni along with drinking some foamy brew. That's Root Beer of course!

CLUBS

This school year brought many changes and developemnts to the traditions of the Fighting Irish. One was the developemnt of a Drama Club. A few years ago there was a Thespian Club assembled at JFK, but interest was lost due to the poor facilities offered on campus, and the club was dispanded. However, English professor Mr. Monabano decided to get another club started and recreate interest in the Performing Arts. Since it was the Drama Club's first year, the performers started from the bottom but advanced to the top rapidly. Their involvement in the pep assemblies was a tremendous asset to the spirited entertainment provided for the Irish. In the future, the club plans to get involved with the staging of plays, musicals, and talent shows. This fresh new club on campus is open to all interested actors and performers.

Pep Club is opened to all the spirited Irish students on Kennedy's campus. The pepsters devoted their time and energies in an effort to promote spirit at JFK. These special members were a big help throughout the entire year participating in athletic events, assemblies, and special school activities. The Pep Club also lent a big hand in the setting up of the traditional Homecoming Assembly. The Pep Club also doubled up on some occasions with the Drama Club to entertain students and faculty with unique skits. With the advice of Pep Commisioner Sharon Gast, this organization was well organized and had a single goal . . . School Spirit! The Fighting Irish were indeed proud of their spirited and enthusiastic Pep Club.

The Kennedy High School Performing Dance Company danced their way through a creative and exciting year. Led by their advisor Ms. McBride, and leaders Tamara Zehner, Kim Anderson, Debbie Williams, Falicia Hurst, and Jeri Ree, the dancers entertained at assemblies and other special events such as the Silverado Days Festivities. They were also seen under the spotlights at the Anaheim Convention Center during Christmas, adding a touch of elegance to the District's traditional Holiday in Music show. The Dance team was also involved in a very unique Spring Show hosted by both the Dance and Drill Team. This show was held in the Kennedy gym with a great display of Modern dance, Modern ballets, jazz, tap, as well as special novelty routines.

Modern Dance is a form of movement that expresses the ideas and feelings which one experiences in the human mind. With grace and coordination, dance demands a tremendous involvement from everyone participating. For some, it's a high school hobby for enjoyment, for others it's the chance to gain experience and enter a career in the world of movement and expression.

PERFORMING DANCE

The Jazz Band delighted audiences with not only jazz, but blues tunes as well. Director Doug Hargis slightly altered the Jazz Band's style from popular hits to classic jazz.

Jazz is a different kind of music with a strong background over which many solos are featured. The rhythm and bass guitars, keyboard and drums compose the rhythm section of the Jazz Ensemble, backing up the trumpet, trombone, and saxophone lines.

The Jazz Ensemble performed at many events including basketball games, carnivals, club functions, concerts and school assemblies. They brought high spirited, toe tapping tunes to their many varied audiences.

Also under the direction of Mr. Hargis was the Concert Band Wind Ensemble. This group performed at many familiar Christmas and Spring shows. The top players of the concert band were chosen to perform at other presentations.

Concert and Jazz Band gave students an opportunity to express themselves musically and has started many careers for those interested in music.

CHORALE

Late last May, thirty five individuals united to demonstrate their tone quality in the try-outs for one of the more choice choral groups in the Anaheim Union High School District. Twenty-three of these talented participants survived the anxiety of solo and group performances before an unfamiliar audience. These finalists, donned in traditional red velvet formals and black tuxedos, made their debut at "back to school night" in the form of the Kennedy "Chorale."

Trained by talented instructor Mr. James Schamp, the Chorale performed at a variety of events. Their enchanting voices lilted audiences at the Anaheim Bowl, Knott's Berry Farm, and the Holiday in Music Festival, among others.

Following in tradition, the chorale group traveled to San Francisco. Throughout the year, fund raisers supplied the necessary money for this trip. While touring San Francisco the vocalists performed and entertained several audiences.

Also under the instruction of vocal director James Schamp was the Girls Glee Club. This beginning choir class performed at minor events gaining experience that helped them perfect their singing skills.

Both girls Glee and Chorale harmonized to entertain receptive audiences. Both organizations gave music students a base on which to build a future in vocal music.

CULTURAL EXCHANGE MECHA

One of the many clubs on campus this year was the Chess Club, led by Mr. Phil Bertoni. To most of us, the game of chess is a confusing mass of Kings, Queens, Horses, and Castles, but Mr. Bertoni's expertise in the game inspired a group of approximately twenty-five students to learn and enjoy the game of chess.

The group met each week on Tuesdays and Thursdays at lunch and played matches. A ranking system was started with everyone having a fair shot at being number one. The top four or five players were sent to tournaments against other high schools. Kennedy fared fairly well, winning just under half of their games.

Chess is generally a slow moving game, but the Chess Club was definitely a fast moving club on campus this year, and the members were hoping for an even more successful year next fall.

The theme for the year was "Dare to Influence" and through their activity and dedication to school and community service, the Key Club believed they accomplished this. The club was involved in various activities throughout the year, such as ushers at the La Palma Beauty Contest.

Key Club is sponsored by the La Palma Kiwanis Club. The club's goal was to serve as many people as possible. Key Club had a successful year and is looking forward to the fall.

FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) is designed for students who are interested in the business field and eager to work with others on projects.

Once a year, FBLA members compete with other high schools. The competition includes accounting, shorthand, business math, typing and other business areas. Both boys and girls are welcomed to join FBLA and a business background is not necessary.

The California Scholarship Federation, otherwise known as C.S.F., is a statewide scholarship organization that recognizes academic achievers.

This year, the Kennedy chapter of C.S.F. was one of the most popular clubs on campus. Its 120 members strived to maintain academic excellence while also earning required service points. To be a member of C.S.F. a 3.5 grade point average was required in selected courses. Club service points were earned through fund raisers such as bake sales, newspaper drives, and canned food drives.

C.S.F. was also a social organization. The club members attended C.S.F. night at Disneyland. At the end of the school year a lavish banquet was staged. Scholarships and senior recognition awards were presented. Gold Seal Bearers and 100% members were announced. This year's C.S.F. officers (Pres. Rosemary Chun, Vice Pres., Audrey Nakakihara, Sec. Tina Dickinson, and Treas. Heidi Chiang) installed the new officers. A special, surprise treat was also given to all loyal C.S.F. members.

In an effort to communicate with a larger number of students, the student council organized the House of Representatives. Under the direction of student leader Gary Ruhlen, house met occasionally to discuss current school events. The House of Representatives was composed of a representative from each first period classroom. Social as well as educational current school events were discussed at the house meetings. The home room representatives then reported this information to their fellow first period classmates. House served as a successful line of communication between faculty, administration, council, and Kennedy students.

Turning Japanese, and Chinese, and Korean, and even a little good 'ole American, the Asian club was a culturally oriented group of Irish students who met to learn more about their Oriental background.

In December a huge bake sale was held at two sites by the Asian club. The bake sale served as the main source of funds for numerous social activities: a gala picnic to acquaint old members with new; an excursion to the Japan expo; and finally a banquet to top off the active year.

The Asian club officers planned and organized the year's activities. They were: Kevin Higa, president; Minna Ahn, vice-president; Grace Lou, treasurer; and Dwayne Ota, secretary. Ms. Taylor enthusiastically advised the club. Unbeknownst to many Kennedy students, the Asian club was open to everyone.

There is one question frequently uttered by bright, inquisitive people — "why?" This is the basis of the Diati club. Translated from its origins, diati simply means "why". The club is composed of MGM students who meet to organize cultural and educational activities. But these activities required money, and there to plan the fund raisers were the three officers: President Eleanor Mauricio, vice-president Jenny Tsai, and Secretary/treasurer Jason Chrest. See's suckers were sold, and a bake sale was staged to raise the desired funds. With the hard earned money, the Diati club members visited a university campus, attended the Renaissance fair, and participated in other recreational activities.

Always witty, Mr. Haynes advised the officers and was present at the meetings. This growing number of MGM students, the Diati club, united to discover educational aspects of the L.A. area, but more than that, they secured lasting friendships and had a fulfilling year.

SKI CLUB

This year's Ski club was no snow job. Lack of snowfall prevented the club from undertaking their annual Christmas excursion. The club's advisor, Mr. Emery, stated that the Ski club would be making an Easter trip. He also hoped to form a racing team within the club. The officers were Chris Tatka, President, and Mike Yost, Vice-President.

The Science club was saturated with enthusiastic and involved members. Heading this group was the science department's Mr. Ridenour. During the year, the club held many fund raisers, mostly bake sales. The club had some guest speakers. A field trip was made to the Laserium. The club's officers were Steve Buss, President, Steve Galipeau, Vice-President, and Lyle Wood, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Sailing club breezed through the year. Under the advisement of Mr. Montalbano, the Sailing club organized meetings and made trips to Long Beach and Newport Marinas. From the club's funds, the spirited members were able to rent boats for sailing outings. The club taught its members how to manipulate their crafts and aided in the development of a flourishing hobby.

Officers Lead Juniors Through A Successful Year

This year's Junior Class was led by Pres. Allen Pellin, Vice. Pres. Sheryl Laska, Sec. Lisa Akers, and Treas. Kim D. Brown. As an established custom the Junior Class officers planned the Junior-Senior Prom which took place at the Balboa Pavilion. With the aid of the Prom Committee, led by Janet Rice, the officers were able to carry out major and minor tasks involved in preparing for a prom. A band was hired, a theme decided upon, and decorations were hung. The numerous expenses of the prom were paid with profits made from a Christmas candy gram sale and a highly successful carwash. The Junior officers also were a big part of the Irish spirit. They led the always energetic class of '82 through an exciting, active, year.

Sophomore Officers working for a better future

Active and involved, the Sophomore class added enthusiasm and spirit to the Kennedy campus. Early in the school year the Sophomores elected their leaders: President Mary Stone, Vice-President Debbie Gast, Secretary Mareena Carrejo, Treasurer Amerish Bera, and Sophomore Representative Bryan Garrity. The Sophomore House was composed of Sophomores who wanted to serve their school and class in a special way.

A Class ring committee was designated to design the distinctive Kennedy High School ring of 1983. A group was formed to begin early preparations for the 1982 Junior-Senior Prom. All and all, the Sophomores spent a busy year planning for their future years at Kennedy. Their spirit really shined at assemblies and other school activities.

Freshmen Officers Start the Ball Rolling

Among the many changes that affected Kennedy High School this year was the addition of the freshmen class. Consisting of wide-eyed, eager, "youngsters", the Class of '84 roamed the campus, trying hard to adjust to a new school, new faces, and new experiences.

Although they did not have an abundance of responsibilities, the freshmen class worked hard on producing funds through money raising projects. President Holly Craig led the Freshmen in activities which helped to build up an almost non-existent treasury. Holly was assisted by freshman Vice President Christy Ebell, Secretary Lisa Hinjosa, and Treasurer Frank Vu. Throughout the year the Freshmen officers organized many activities.

By the end of the year, the spirited group of ninth graders had grown into a class of experienced high school students ready to tackle their remaining three years at Kennedy.

1. Scott Sypkens discusses freshmen activities with freshman representative Jon Giacomi. 2. Holly Craig takes time off from her pressing duties as President to mug for the camera. 3. 1980-81 Freshmen Officers. Bottom: Frank Vu. Top L to R: Lisa Hinjosa, Christy Ebell, Holly Craig. 4. Freshman Treasurer, Frank Vu. 5. Freshman Vice President Christy Ebell. 6. Freshman Secretary Lisa Hinjosa. 7. Freshman President Holly Craig. 8. Freshman House Bottom L to R: Allan Bonaguro, Frank Vu, Jeff Jones, Loren Gaukler. Standing L to R: Jon Giacomi, Holly Craig, Lisa Hinjosa. Window L to R: Bonnie Brown, Denise Granito, Shirley Kirkconnell.

ADMINISTRATION

High school means different things to different students. For those who took advantage of the many opportunities to help prepare for the future, Kennedy will provide many fine memories. For others, memories of high school may be less positive. However, as the saying goes, "Whant's done is done." and no benefit can come from wishing the past were different. What will count is what you do in the future.

As the years pass by, your feelings about such things as the dedication of your parents, the value of your teachers, and a good education will very likely change. With age these things become much more important because you realize how important they have been in determining the type of life you live.

Pointing out what's wrong in the world will be your easiest task. Being critical takes no training and little thought. Your real challenge will be to seek and find solutions to these problems. As a student of Kennedy High School you have been exposed to the finest teachers and programs available. You have also become a part of the "Fighting Irish" traditions of pride and achievement which have become an important part of the lives of over eleven thousand graduates.

Watching you grow, enjoying your successes, and sharing your disappointments has been an enriching and enjoyable experience for me. I am proud of your accomplishments and confident that you will have no trouble meeting the challenges that lie ahead.

Sincerely,
C. Larry Fancher, Principal

You're Never Fully Dressed Without A Smile!

Hey, Hobo Man,
Hey, Dapper Dan,
You've both got your style,
But brother,
YOU'RE NEVER FULLY DRESSED
WITHOUT A SMILE
Your clothes may be
Beau-Brummelly
They stand out a mile
But brother,
YOU'RE NEVER FULLY DRESSED
WITHOUT A SMILE
Who cares
What they're wearing
On Main Street,
Or Savile Row
It's what you wear from ear-to-ear,
And not from head-to-toe
That matters,
So, Senator,
So, Janitor,
So long for a while
Remember
You're never fully dressed
(Though You may wear the best)
YOU'RE NEVER FULLY DRESSED
WITHOUT A SMILE.

YEARBOOK EDITORS

Woweekazowee! What a year! We wanted this yearbook to be new, different, and positively DAZZLING! Under the direction of a brand new publishing company, our ideas have come to life. We've made a lot of changes in this year's annual, for the better we hope. Our goal has been to bring you, the students of Kennedy High, a year in retrospect bound and printed.

Editing a yearbook is no piece of cake. However, this year was especially trying. Try piecing together a yearbook in a closet! Well, to tell you the truth, it wasn't all that bad . . . we had a straw basket and a cooking room as well. The biggest problem we faced was uncooperation. It seems that very few folks on campus were open to change. We had to "tackle" our way through many obstacles just to get one measly electric typewriter. Try divying up the rights to that the day before a deadline! But enough complaining. This yearbook's salvation was its terrific staff.

A good staff, talented photographers, and a devoted advisor are all essential to the production of a quality yearbook. We were fortunate enough to be blessed (hallelujah!) with all of these fine attributes. Our staff was highlighted by returning members Cathy Omata (responsible for, among other things, the always exciting ads featured in this annual), Sally Gauthier (party coordinator extraordinaire), Nancy Kadota (frequently seen piled behind stacks of photos), and Camie Ujiie (Definately devious, but writes terrific "cream puff" copy). Our photographers have made themselves famous around campus. Long legged Ron Diaz does indeed have a face behind that Cannon X19! Scott Shanklin (when not faithfully attending his classes) attended breath-taking freshman soccer games and stimulating chess club meetings.

We take pride in our close-knit, efficient staff. Senior staff members include quiet Joyce Cabotaje Joyce's dedication to preparing class sections was positively touching. Jason Chrest and Lyle Wood made up an inseparable team of lunacy. Their eagerness to accomplish the impossible was always encouraging. Kevin Higa and Winston Quitisol comprised yet another dynamic duo. On rainy days these two could be found in each other's arms, or acting as the object of a football coach's wrath. Not to be forgotten is cheery senior Patty Smets. Her insight into campus "affairs" served as an invaluable tool for the yearbook.

Our junior staff was comprised of many unique (??!!) individuals. Jean Masuo and Joy Lee contributed much to the class in the way of jokes and won tons. The won tons were better than the jokes. Kim Oh add to the antics in a more subdued, but just as disgusting fashion. Animated Robin Russell prodded the staff on through harrowing deadlines. Sophomores Diane Hatchimonji and June Oyama served as class peons and diligent workers. All of these terrific, vivacious individuals came together to create this yearbook.

And finally one staff member who carries more responsibility than any of us, Ms. Johnson, our advisor. She, along with her "co-conspiritor" Mr. Schnek parented this yearbook through thick and thin.

And so we present the Eternal Flame, your 1981 Kennedy High School Yearbook. We sincerely hope that this yearbook brings you as much pleasure as it has brought us in its production.

Kelli Kaps and Kathy Exter
Editors-in-Chief

A.S.B. PRESIDENT

"I think therefore I am." And you can be! Your life is what you make of it. Don't let your peers manipulate you into unwanted areas. Rather stand alone and be proud. Forget about what others might say about you. Will all your worries add a single moment to your life? In high school you should be quite selective in choosing your friends. You'll soon find out that after graduation it's the friends you made in high school that will stick with you the rest of your life; not the ones you met in college or at work. Have fun but work hard.

Underclassmen; never stop looking towards the future. Don't get bogged down with present day entanglements. Grades may seem inferior now, but woe to those of you who laugh them off. Colleges and businesses look at the grades you've earned during selections — not the qualities that make you "cool" to your friends.

Seniors; We've made it and have many great memories! I hope your years at Kennedy have prepared you well for the rough years ahead. If you choose to fight for success, popularity, and wealth; fight hard! Compete for that top spot with all you've got! Then when you fall in a heap of failure, you may just realize that there is Someone much greater than yourself and all your competitors combined . . .
Jesus Loves You —

Kevin Coventon

P.S. Ponder this: "How do you know what is going to happen tomorrow? For the length of your lives is as uncertain as the morning fog — now you see it; soon it is gone."

NOW what do I do?

Jeff,
Math is finally over. I am so sick of that crop every single day. Maybe someday I will see you ripping up on stage at the forum. That would be great just practicing and you will be there. Party up graduation night but don't pull a Bonham. Hopefully I will probably see you at some the next morning. I will be able to get up parties this summer so stay cool and I'll see you around.
P.S. - Party ADP
Mike Smith
